Foreword

Reflection is a heritage to be highly valued by man. It is a part of his distinguishing quality, his ability to think. Through reflection we are able to study and appreciate experiences which have greatly enriched our lives. The years spent at college form a great experience that will leave a definite imprint in the strata of our personality.

But because much of the keen edge of enjoyment wears away as events pass into history and the particular incidents are forgotten, we have collected in this volume much which will reflect a variety of moods and memories and will suggest to each a great many more.

To the Memory of

Student Government Association

Every Simmons student is a member of Student Government Association. The Association elects twelve members to form Student Government Council, which meets weekly to consider student administrative problems and routine. All members of the Association are encouraged to submit problems concerning activities of the various organizations and of the Association at large. Minutes of Council meetings are posted conspicuously on the Student Government Bulletin Board.

This year Student Government Council has been particularly concerned with adapting its regulations and policies to work in harmony with the new curriculum and the new Honor System. It has tried to make the point system of holding office more efficient and has attempted, as far as possible, to systematize dotmitory regulations and ptivileges.

Dormitory Council

Chairman . . . . . GRETCHEN LORENZ
Secretary . . . . . MARGARET MAY

Dormitory Council is charged with dormitory affairs, and with the enforcement of the Simmons Code. From this Council arise recommendations for the betterment of the dormitory life, which are sent first to the Student Government Council for ratification, and then to the Dean for final sanction. It is made up of the Vice-President of Student Government, who is Chairman of the Council, all House Chairmen, and House Seniors.

Honor Committee

Last spring, in accordance with changes demanded by the new Honor System adopted by Simmons, Honor Committee was established as successor to the old Judicial Board.

While the Committee deals with violations of the honor system in the academic field, it has as its chief duty "the education of the students with respect to maintaining the conduct required under this honor principle."

The Committee is made up of four Seniors and three Juniors elected by Student Government Council.

For the purpose of correcting all offenders against dormitory Student Government regulations, there exists within Dormitory Council a Dormitory Board which is composed of ten members: Vice-President of Student Government, who is Chairman of the Board; three Seniors; two Juniors; one Sophomore; one Freshman to be elected by the Council at large; and the President of Student Government and the Chairman of Honor Committee, who are members ex officio.

Dormitory Advisory Board

Dormitory Advisory Board has been newly created this year to aid Student Government Council in its dormitory problems. The Board is composed of the Dean, three members of the instructing staff who are graduates of the college appointed by the President, and three members of Student Council.

All dormitory rules and questions proposed by the Student Government Council are referred to this Board and must be approved by it to become final. It is the Conference Committee of the dormitory field and its services are very valuable.

Conference Committee

Through the agency of Conference Committee the faculty has a means of aiding the students in their policies of self-government with regard to the academic field. The Committee is composed of the Dean, four members of the faculty and four members from Student Government Council.

The object of the Committee is to discuss and act upon all academic matters presented by the faculty or by Student Council. It is through Conference Committee that coöperation and understanding is maintained between the faculty and the students.

President . . . . . FAITH G. ALLEN
Secretary . . . . . EVELYN A. JUSTIS
Treasurer . . . . . ALICE H. JUNKIN

The Academy, this year as in preceding years, has endeavored to carry out its purpose of encouraging an interest "in those courses of study in Simmons College which are not professional or technical," and recognizing "accomplishment in the requirements of those courses." To the sympathy and help of the instructors in these subjects, the society owes much. If the year's program has awakened the interest of even a few in the College to some line of intellectual enjoyment and achievement, the Academy will in some measure have attained its ideal.

Christian Science Organization has held weekly meetings in the Assembly Hall on Monday afternoons throughout the year. These meetings, which were open to all who wished to attend, afforded an opportunity of sharing the blessings and joy which result from the study of Christian Science. In addition to the regular weekly meetings, a lecture was given by a member of the Board of Lectureship of the Mother Church, the First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts.

We are grateful for the progress we have made this year, and for the realization of an increased feeling of love and friendship for all members of the College.

Ellen Richards Club

President . . . . . BEATRICE SMITH
Secretary-Treasurer . . . . . WINNIFRED TURNER

The founding of the Ellen Richards Club in 1920 was the result of a desire to stimulate an interest in science, and to promote good fellowship among the science students.

Its membership is now open to Juniors and Seniors of the Science School, and Sophomores are admitted during the last term of each year. Although the admission requirements make the organization small, it is steadily growing, and with its growth the ideals and aims of the Club are being realized more and more.

In addition to the annual fall picnic and the birthday party in the spring, open meetings, teas, and initiation are held during the year.

Forum

Chairman	Margaret Freeman
Publicity	Mildred Gumaer
Manager for Sophomore Dormitories	Virginia Mecklem
Junior Assistant	Patricia Willson

The purpose of Forum is to offer additional opportunities to Simmons girls for becoming better informed on topics of general interest and significance, through lectures given in the dormitories throughout the year.

Dr. Varrell's bi-monthly current events class formed the background for the campus activities. Additional speakers on the programme were Mr. Paul Porter, League for Industrial Democracy; Mrs. Milton Sunderland of L. P. Hollander Co.; Mr. Henry Wadsworth Longfellow Dana, Cambridge School of Drama; Mrs. Eva Whiting White, Woman's Educational and Industrial Union; and Mr. H. Irving Olds of the American-Japanese traveling fellowships. A travelogue of a trip around the world was presented under the auspices of the American Express Company.

Forum speakers in the Sophomore dormitories included Dr. Samuel B. Lindsay of the Brookline Baprist Church, Dr. Gay, and the Rev. Arrhur Lee Kinsolving, Rector of Trinity Church.

Dr. Gay was the first speaker in the Freshmen houses. Mrs. George Wightman, the Rev. Vivian T. Pomeroy, Dr. Varrell and Dr. Harley spoke at subsequent meetings.

Forum wishes to express its sincere appreciation to Dr. Varrell and the others for their kindness and coöperation in connection with the Forum programme.

The Home Economics Club is the professional organization of the department. It aims to acquaint the undergraduates with the various vocations and opportunities open to the person trained in Home Economics. This is accomplished by affiliation with the New England and the National Home Economics Associations; by monthly meetings at which speakers representing widely varied fields tell of their work and their problems; by field trips to places of interest; and by the delegation of a member of the Junior Class to the Annual National Home Economics Convention.

The funds raised by dues, food sales and occasional social functions enable the Club to send a delegate to the National Convention; to carry membership in the New England and the National Associations; to contribute to foreign scholarships; to give a scholarship of its own to some needy and deserving upper-class member of the Home Economics School; and to finance a banquet at the end of the year to welcome Sophomores into membership.

The aim of Menorah Society is the study and advancement of Jewish ideals and culture. It also tries to develop a closer friendship among the Jewish students. With this aim in view the society sponsors many religious, educational, and social functions.

This year marks the fifteenth anniversary of the Simmons Menorah Society's existence. As an anniversary undertaking a program for the establishment of a scholarship for some worthy Jewish student was begun. The proceeds from a play constituted the initial sum for this purpose. It is hoped that succeeding years will see this fund grow and become an established scholarship.

The Newman Club, of which all Catholics are automatically members, is one of the largest in Simmons. It is a member of the National Federation of College Catholic Clubs and also the New England Federation.

The purpose of the Club is to further the religious, educational, and social activities of Catholic students in non-sectarian colleges. The affairs of the club consist of talks by prominent priests, Communion Breakfasts, a retreat, teas, a bridge party, and a dance.

It is the aim of the Club to live up to the ideals and standards of its noble and honorable patron, Cardinal Newman.

When the Poetry Club began its weekly meeting three years ago, it had many ambitions and day-dreams. The Club, which has benefited by the personal interest of Mr. deMille, is primarily for those who enjoy the writing of verses, in free or conventional forms.

Last year Arrows, a slim, red volume of verse, was the realization of the Club's greatest ambition. This little book received favorable comment from sources other than college circles. "Arrows Released," the weekly column in the News, is an interesting sequence.

The Club has twice been invited to read before the Boston Center of the Poetry Society of England. The Faculty Tea is another annual event.

Although this is the first appearance of the Poster Association in "Mic," it is not a new organization, but one which has fulfilled the ardent task of supplying the college with posters for the various functions and activities which take place throughout the school year.

To be a member of the Poster Association is to receive an honorary appointment from a faculty member who knows of the student's native ability and her capability to do satisfactory poster work.

The Poster Association has, better than ever, fulfilled its function this past year. We feel much honor and praise goes to the President of the Association for her interest and coöperation in making this organization one of progress and development.

The aim of Scout Club is to carry on the spirit of Girl Scouting through college. We do this by having suppers at the Freshman dormitories and teas in the Lounge, with outside speakers attending. In this way we try to keep up to date on active work.

Our community service consists in giving a Hallowe'en Party for a Scout troop at the Good Will Settlement House, East Boston, and sewing for the Needlework Guild. A week-end at Cedar Hill for winter sports and a theatre party in the spring complete the year's program.

The Simmons Musical Association, which includes the Glee Club and the Instrumental Club, is for girls who enjoy music and are interested in group singing and playing.

The Glee Club gave a successful Jordan Hall concert this year and is planning another concert to be given with the Technology Glee Club. The Club also hopes to have its annual Simmons Night at the Pops. The money made from the activities is to be used in establishing a scholarship fund for a student who has been a member in good standing for four years, and who is judged to be deserving by the Scholarship Committee.

The Instrumental Club, made up of a quintet and a jazz orchestra, has been very active this year, having played at the Olde English Dinner and almost all of the college teas.

Unity Club is the liberal club of Simmons. To it we invite girls of any religion; in fact, we have representatives of six different denominations on our membership list. At our teas we have interesting speakers who acquaint us with noteworthy events in the world and in religion.

Among our guest speakers have been Dr. Gay of the faculty; Dr. Lindsay of the First Baptist Church of Brookline; and Dr. Gysan, the new director of student work in Boston, who has come to us with many ideas for organization besides his interesting talks. Nor must we forget to mention Mrs. Gysan's delightful get-acquainted tea.

Unity Club has been asked to send representatives to the Unitarian Student Council, a new organization for Unitarian students. The Toy Town Tavern in Winchendon saw members of the Club at the annual student conference held there in February.

The Simmons Y. W. C. A. points with pride to the achievements which have developed out of its many ambitions for the past year.

The Student Industrial group has increased in size, strength, and interest under the guidance of Mr. Friedberg. The usual Friday afternoon teas have been continued, although less often. The leadership of well-known ministers has added much to our Lenten teas. Inter-race meetings have also found their interests for many girls. A new activity has been started—a faculty-student supper group has had its first meeting and we are anticipating fine results. In the spring the faculty-student baseball game is always looked forward to.

We have been glad to welcome Miss Ann Silver to our groups this year as the new Metropolitan secretary and an invaluable friend and adviser. If the Y. W. C. A. has no other justification for existence, we hope that the friendships and fellowship made possible through its activities are found worthy enough.

020 Club, Simmons' newest organization, was organized in October of this college year by a group of Library School Seniors for Library Juniors, Seniors and Graduate Students. Members of the Library School faculty and of the library staff are honorary members. The purpose of the Club, as stated in the Constitution, is to further both professional and social relationships between students of the Library School of Simmons College.

Because this is its first year, the Club has been feeling its way, but several interesting meetings have been held with such speakers as Mr. Chin, librarian of the Chinese collection at Harvard, and Mr. Haraszti; a play contest has been conducted and the winning play produced; and other strictly social get-togethers and a picnic were held.

This year has been successful for a first year; further development and increase in interest are now left to future library students with all best wishes and a sincere hope of success.

Dramatics Association has had a very successful year and the members feel very much encouraged at the support which they have received. The Association has been greatly helped in putting on better plays by the grant of financial aid, which was continued by the Corporation this year.

This year a cup, to be known as the Ruth Lansing Cup for Competitive Plays, has been established. It is hoped that the awarding of this cup yearly will soon be one of the fine traditions of the college.

The Sophomore Class won the Competitive Plays and so were the first to have their numerals on the new cup.

Simmons News has made but one radical change this year. Its literary supplement, Per-Simmons, started last year as a sheet which once a year took the place of News, now has a character, a personality of its own. Students' contributions of a literary nature have this year been published in booklet form with the hope that some day News and Per-Simmons will be two and entirely separate, as their interests now are.

News has and is still striving to make evident its purpose—to reflect the spirit that belongs to Simmons.

To obtain the best kind of publicity in the best way is an ideal toward which Press Board strives. This year the publicity has been expanded by Mr. Watkins, who has been the publicity director for the college since December, 1930. A generous gift from the Instructors' Club this year, coöperation from the corporation, from members of the faculty, and from the students have aided us in our work.

The membership in Press Board has grown to more than sixteen, and the number of out-of-town papers having correspondents from Press Board has also been increased.

The Press Board bulletin board, with its many clippings of news items and pictures, is probably the most popular in the corridor. Student Government has again financed the cost of clipping service. The scrap book in the Editors' room is the result of an attempt to record the work of Press Board, while that in the library has records of Simmons' publicity other than that given by Press Board.

Microcosm

Like all autobiographers we wonder if our achievements have been illustrative enough of our plans to make a statement of what we wished to accomplish sound sincere.

"Mic" Board has tried to set up a memorial, not as a sad expression of loss, but as a happy symbol of the many experiences we wish to remember as typical of all that our college life has stood for.

Athletics is one of the binding forces in our college life. It unites the girls in a spirit of fun and competition and makes for lasting friendships formed during practice in the various sports. A successful hockey season ended with the class of 1935 receiving the cup and Mary Cassidy the individual cup. Dorrance Chase for the fourth time won the tennis singles tournament. Hiking and riding were resumed and an outing club was formed. In basketball, the class of 1935 won the 1st and 2nd team cups and Gertrude Tyler the individual cup. Life Saving, archery, fencing, golf, tap-dancing and tennis (doubles) have been popular also. Baseball and badminton, both new sports to Simmons, were enjoyed in the spring. Under the efficient supervision and able leadership of Miss Diall, Miss Leach, the coaches and the managers all these sports were well organized and well attended.

This year the college managers of sports have been:

The college tennis tournament was very successful this year. Archery

This year archery proved to be the most popular sport at college, with more girls signing up than for any of the other sports. Four or five hours every day were devoted to classes for instruction, led by the manager, Barbara Knight, who was assisted by Dorothy Squire, Sally Rahn and Barbara Hatch.

The purchase of new equipment in the spring added to everyone's interest in practicing for the annual May tournament.

The Weddings of 1932

The month of November is an important one in the Simmons calendar because it is then that the Freshman class officially joins the Simmons family. The custom of having a mock wedding, in which the president of the Freshman class becomes the bride of the Junior president, has developed into an impressive pledging of friendship between the classes. Dignified ushers escort the guests to their seats, from which everyone politely stares to see whom the distinguished guests are, whom the bride's and groom's parents are, and finally at the bride and her attendants. The groom also shares in the attention while waiting beside the minister to give his solemn pledge. After each ceremony in which the Class of '32 avowed her friendship for her sister classes a wedding breakfast was served to the wedding party as a symbol of good fellowship successfully begun.

Freshman Frolic

Ever since 1905 it has been the custom for all fun-loving Freshmen to gather in our beloved back yard in the early spring for a party referred to as Freshman Frolic. Such hilarious fun—we are supposed to be funny—and we are. Costumes of every conceivable quality, quantity, and design, pigtails, bare knees, good old games of tag and hop-scotch —and by way of climax, hot dogs, ice cream, and lollipops. Just see yourself.

Track Day

Although track has been eliminated from this year's athletic schedule, the other three spring mornings, when the four classes met in the back yard to compete for athletic honors and the distinction of having the best class costume or song, were too much fun to exclude all mention of them from this book. It was a glad day for '32 when her costumes were awarded first prize. She has been proud of her athletic achievements, too. As a class we have pronounced the faculty members who acted in a judiciary capacity on these occasions as wise, and diligent in their efforts to make track day a big success.

Class Picnics

A crowd gathered at Rowe's Wharf, pushing through the gate on to the gang plank—one last girl running—and off for the day—the breeze blowing through our hair—voices calling back and forth—"Oh, ain't life grand!" What a fine chance for us as Freshmen and Sophomores to entertain our upperclass sisters! A ride in a dinky train and then everybody piling off, noisy and free for the day. A bake in the sand, sun pouring down, a game of ball near the breakers, a few red-legged creatures in the water, and then lunch. With the afternoon came a rush for the street entertainments or a quiet spot on the pavillion. Later there was a noisy trip back on the boat, a dance, "Pals," and another picnic to remember.

Sophomore Luncheon

Sophomore Luncheon—where we received our Simmons rings with the grand numerals, '32, and where our elephant mascot with his gay green and gold trappings first made an official appearance. Sophomore Luncheon is the big event of Sophomore year, and we all loved it, every bit—the speeches, the songs, the elephant ices, the pretty waitresses, and all the rest of it. It is one of the beautiful customs of Simmons that will go on through the years, for we realize at Luncheon, perhaps for the first time, what it is to be a class.

Sophomore May Day

In the chilly charm of the spring morning we all, as Sophomores, marched down to campus. Gathered there we sang to the Seniors, who rewarded us by coming out to join us. We carried on the tradition of crowning the May King and Queen. Then, royalty and commoners, we watched the story of Goldilocks and the Three Bears acted out in pantomime—and finally breakfast was served out-of-doors there, culminating in Simmons May Day strawberry shortcake.

Junior Prom

What other event is quite so important? From the beginning of dinner until the last strain of music died away, what Junior was not thrilled to be at her Simmons Junior prom at the Somerset? Seniors in cap and gown sang their serenade from the balcony of the ballroom. The ushers patiently waited for their "cut-in" dance. To the Juniors the time seemed to speed by until finally the new wrap was put on over the new evening gown and thoughts were turned to the week-end climax, a house party at the beach or in the country.

Hobo Party

A shiver of thrills accompanies all memories of Hobo Party, our only lapse from Senior dignity. That evening we dressed in clothes long tucked away in the family rag bag. From North Hall basement, haunted by ghosts and other unknown creatures, came whoops and squeals as the fun progressed, until every one quieted down to enjoy apples, cider, and doughnuts.

Ye Olde English Dinner

"Our Lord and Lady bid ye welcome to this Christmas feast."

In the manorial hall, fragrant with the sweet boughs of hemlock, evergreen, and holly, the officers of Student Government assume the dignity of lords and ladies and feast in their splendor. A stately herald, lively pages, witty jesters—making merry with mistletoe —a flaming boar's head, a blazing pudding, "St. George and the Dragon," and formal dinner dress are all a part of one of the most noted and memorable of Simmons traditions.

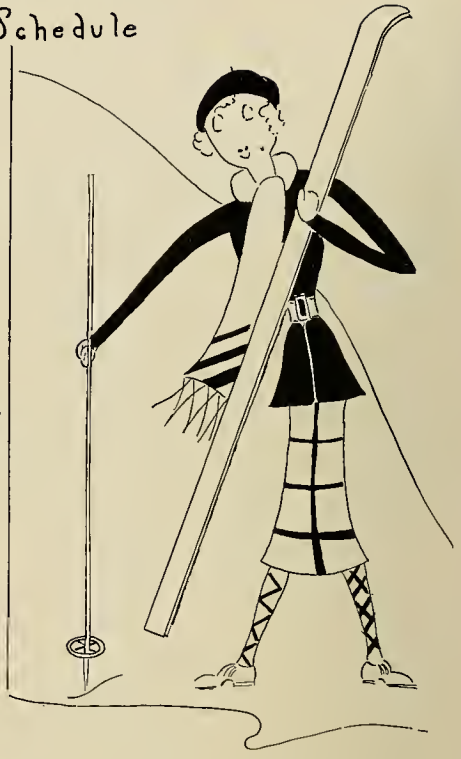
The New Exam Schedule

Christmas—no exams—time for shopping—and then vacation free from the possibility of a flunk note.



March—still no exams—instead an evening or two at the theatre before leaving for home.

June—exams and more exams—two impossible weeks of them and a reading period—but what a marvelous review.

Sally Improves Simmons

Time: Suit yourself
Place: The Dean's Office
Participants: The Dean and Sally Simmons

Dean: "How do you do, Sally. What does this D in Dissecting Cats mean that I see here on your card? Now I am sure—"

Sally: "Oh, yes; well really that is quite all right. You see, my mother has been suffering from neurosis of the physical inabilities and I have been so busy with her and—"

Dean: "Mmmmm, yes, I see."

Sally: "Let me see, what was I saying—well never mind. Oh, yes, do tell me what your impression of me as a Freshman was. Of course, I realize it must have been hard for you to see my possibilities then, as I am kind of an introvert and you might not understand, but I wonder just what you thought."

Dean: "Well, let me see. (Reads.) Oh, yes, but let's wait until a little later for that. May I ask what improvements you might suggest for our already perfect organization? Do you think—"

Sally: "I do think I can help you out. I know that you have quite a few things to do and probably haven't had time to give any attention to some of the perfectly obvious things I have thought of, so I'm glad I can help you in this way. First, don't you think we really ought to relieve the students from this duo-daily dangerous traveling to and from school? Why, when I think of the narrow escapes I have had I get so frightened! I should think that an installation of a Brookline Avenue tunnel would lessen this difficulty. More drug stores could be put in to relieve the terrible congestion at the Pilgrim Road Pharmacy. Then we might have a bit of Durgin Park & Co. put in and the Blue Ship Tea Room with a little of the harbor. That would be nice, wouldn't it?"

Dean: "Oh, quite, really, that is, to be sure I think it really would. Oh, yes, quite."

Sally: "And then, of course, we would need an escalator similar to the one at South Station. That would save you from worrying about the elevator problem. During Freshman Week the Freshmen could be required to run down instead of up."

Dean: "Why they might—"

Sally: "Do them good."

Dean: "Have you thought of anything else, Sally?"

Sally: "Oh my, yes. I have one suggestion that I am more anxious to see worked out than anything else. Why not have the faculty compelled to take examinations on what they have learned from the students during the year? I feel sure that they would prove enlightening, and quite helpful."

Dean: "How interesting. I will certainly take that up with the Executive Committee."

Sally: "I've also been wondering why Simmons doesn't put in a Marriage Bureau or at least an Engagement Bureau in connection with its Employment Bureau. During this depression something has got to be done."

Dean: "Well, Sally—"

Sally: "Oh, I don't want you to think I'm criticizing the college too strongly; there is one change already installed which I do think merits a word of praise, and that is the sleeping period preceding exams."

Dean: "Well, Sally, I hope—"

Sally: "And about smoking—"

Dean: "Time's up."

WESTON-THURSTON COMPANY

Under the Grasshopper since 1898

Stalls 20-22-24, New Faneuil Hall Market, Boston, Mass.

The Weathervane on Faneuil Hall is a heavy copper grasshopper fashioned by the hand of Deacon Shem Drowne in 1742. It fell to the ground during the earthquake that visited Boston in 1755. It suffered a like fate when Faneuil Hall was burned in 1761 and again by accident in 1889. But though often repaired it is still in place above the dome on the CRADLE OF LIBERTY.
